New High School Series: Now& Then

Easter is just around the corner and we can't wait to talk about the joy and grace that it holds for us! But we also know forgiveness can be an easier thing to talk about than own in our life. So, this month through the seires Now & Then, we will talk about just that and what it looked lke in the Gospels (Then) and how we can live in that in our own lives (now). We hope you'll join us this month and in these conversations!

New Middle School Series: Working It Out

Middle School will be starting a new series titled "Working It Out." The series is anchored in Philippians 2:12 and will help students understand what it means for Christians to work out their salvation, while emphasizing that we work from our salvation and not for our salvation.
